

Title:           Detection of distant AGN by MAGIC:
the transparency of the Universe to high-energy photons

Name:            Marco Roncadelli
Affiliation:     INFN Pavia
Email:           Marco.Roncadelli@pv.infn.it

Abstract

Recent findings by imaging atmospheric Cherenkov telescopes indicate a large transparency of the Universe to gamma rays, which can be hardly explained within the current models of extragalactic background light. The phenomenon could be the consequence of the mixing between photons and axion-like particles.